

Grace Robertson

Call: 2021

✉ clerks@newcourtchambers.com ☎ 020 7583 5123

Grace Robertson is a specialist family law practitioner, who accepts instruction from all parties within proceedings, in Public and Private Children's Law as well as Court of Protection cases.

She has been instructed in public law cases at all stages of proceedings, including contested removal hearings, multi-day fact-finding hearings, deprivation of liberty order proceedings, and hearings within the Family Drug and Alcohol Court.

Grace has been instructed in private law proceedings concerning allegations of serious domestic abuse, intractable contact disputes, international complexities and with a nexus between private and public law proceedings.

Grace has experience as junior counsel and has appeared herself in the High Court.

Grace joined chambers in October 2022, following the successful completion of her pupillage.

Prior to joining chambers and training as a barrister, Grace was a participant on the Teach First programme and was a Secondary School English teacher.

Awards

- Lord Denning Scholar, Lincoln's Inn
- BTC Excellence Scholar, BPP Law School
- Carrer Commitment Scholar, BPP Law School
- Graham Robertson Scholar, Bristol University

- Recipient of the George Hare Leonard Prize, Bristol University

Languages

- English
- Dutch (basic)
- Spanish (basic)

Qualifications

- Bar Training Course (Distinction), LLM, BPP Law School
- Graduate Diploma in Law (Distinction), BPP Law School
- Secondary Education, University of Bristol
- PGCE (Distinction) English Language & Literature
- BA (First) History, University of Bristol

Professional Memberships

- Family Law Bar Association